

RRCC Alumni, Connor McGuinness, shares his Rainy Experience...

I was born and raised in New York, than moved to Florida when I was about 10 years old. I graduated from Gateway Charter High School in Fort Myers, Florida in 2013. I than attended Daytona State College in Daytona Beach FL.

After my dad passed away I decided to transfer to RRCC. That turned out to be one of the best decisions I've ever made. Besides the snow.. obviously, being away from home wasn't easy, but I met some really incredible friends, teachers and coaches that made me feel welcome.

I graduated from RRCC in 2016. I'm so grateful for my family that made it possible for me to attend RRCC. I'm also thankful for the coaching staff, and my teammates that made it a unbelievably memorable two seasons.

After graduating I accepted a scholarship to play baseball at Minot State University! I plan on pursuing a criminal justice degree. I've made so many memories that it's hard to choose my favorites, but I'll never forget our spring training trips down to FL, or staying up until 5am studying for exams with everyone in the dorms, or ice fishing, that was first.
